THE HOSPITALITY COLLECTION

The art of a better stay.

Haircare, illuminated mirrors and styling tools. A coherent point of view for the moments before your guests step out.

CONSIDERED ESSENTIALS. EXCEPTIONAL STAYS.

THE ROOM, THROUGH YOUR GUEST'S EYES

Three moments.
One considered experience.

A morning routine. The final look in the mirror. The preparations for a memorable evening. These moments are personal, even when the room is not their own.

Dry.

Give the everyday haircare ritual a deliberate place in the room standard.

Reflect.

Think about light, reach and the practicality of getting ready together.

Step out.

Offer a thoughtfully managed styling service for the moments that call for it.

The opportunity is not simply to put more appliances in more rooms. It is to remove a compromise at the point where your guest is preparing to meet the day.

More consideration. Not more clutter.

01 / HAIRCARE

A better beginning.
A beautiful finish.

The essential Lite expression and the signature Premium direction. Choose the room story, then validate the actual product.

Hairdryer Lite

A better beginning to every day.

Design direction

Soft-matte polymer shell direction

Imagined for

Guestrooms, serviced apartments and thoughtful select-service stays

Hairdryer Premium

The detail that earns a second look.

Design direction

Brushed-metal exterior direction

Imagined for

Suites, premium guestrooms, boutique hotels and resorts

> A design direction, not a final specification
>
> Final dimensions, performance, electrical approval and commercial terms must be confirmed on the actual production model. The visual studies are not product certification.

02 / ILLUMINATED MIRRORS

Put the ritual in the right light.

A freestanding mirror can help a room work beyond the bathroom. Specify the placement, sightline and electrical arrangement together.

Makeup Mirror Lite

Put the finishing touch in the right light.

Design direction

Soft-matte base and frame direction

Imagined for

Guestroom desks, compact vanities and dressing areas

Makeup Mirror Premium

A vanity moment worth making room for.

Design direction

Brushed-metal frame and weighted-base direction

Imagined for

Suites, premium dressing tables, bridal preparation rooms and spa-adjacent spaces

A design direction, not a final specification

Final dimensions, performance, electrical approval and commercial terms must be confirmed on the actual production model. The visual studies are not product certification.

03 / STYLING TOOLS

The evening begins before the door closes.

An on-request styling amenity can be more thoughtful than an unused tool in every room. Let guest demand and operational safety define the program.

Curler Lite

One less thing to pack. One more thoughtful touch.

Design direction
Soft-matte handle and contrasting barrel direction

Imagined for
Managed guest lending, event preparation and controlled amenity programs

Curler Premium

Make the evening part of the experience.

Design direction
Metal-accented handle and refined barrel direction

Imagined for
Concierge-led lending, signature suites and event-focused hospitality

A design direction, not a final specification

Heated tools require exact-model safety approval, written instructions and an operational lending review before guest use. Product features and kit contents remain unverified.

TWO EXPRESSIONS / ONE PHILOSOPHY

Your room mix.
Your point of view.

Use the collection as a planning system. Lite explores a soft-matte everyday expression; Premium explores a more distinctive metal-finish presence. Neither tier implies a verified performance advantage.

ROOM / SERVICE	CONSIDERED APPROACH	DECISION TO VALIDATE
Everyday guestroom	Lite dryer and mirror direction	Placement, usability, care and value
Premium room / suite	Premium dryer and mirror direction	Finish fit, guest preference and support
On-request styling	A shared Lite or Premium curler pool	Demand, safety, storage and lending routine
Multiple properties	A common brief with local configurations	Market approvals, voltage, plug and logistics

For the guest

A coherent experience, communicated clearly: what is in the room and what can be requested.

For the property

A specification that includes handling, cleaning, spares and service—not just appearance.

Make room for different routines

Hair texture, styling habits, eyesight, mobility and trip purpose vary. Evaluate the needs of your own guests rather than assuming one setup is right for everyone.

A THOUGHTFUL PATH TO ROLLOUT

Make the first rooms your best argument.

01

Frame the experience

Map the room categories, guest routines, proposed placement and destination requirements.

02

Approve the actual model

Review a sample with engineering and housekeeping. Attach technical evidence to the exact configuration.

03

Run a defined pilot

Measure the guest response alongside service calls, cleaning time and operating issues.

04

Agree the complete offer

Confirm product revision, quantities, pricing, tax, freight, lead time, warranty and service responsibilities.

05

Roll out with a record

Keep the approved specification, care instructions, spare pool and feedback loop together.

Do not skip the release gates

Guestroom trials and commercial orders depend on qualified products and market approvals. A concept rendering is not permission to place an unapproved electrical product into service.

AERLOR / HOSPITALITY

Your standards.
Our starting point.

Tell us what your property is known for—and what you want the next version of the room to feel like. Build a collection selection, share a project brief, and use the conversation to define the right next step.

For purchasing

Product selection, quantities, destination, required timing and the terms your team needs to approve.

For design & operations

Finish direction, room placement, guest routine, care requirements and an evaluation plan.

Prepare your property brief ↗

Explore the resource library ↗

Collection status

AERLOR is in development. All product imagery is conceptual. No available stock, certified model, measured performance, existing hotel partnership or final price is represented. This document is not a binding quote.

Version R3 / 4 November 2026. Product and market details must be confirmed before purchase. © AERLOR. Custom brand artwork is reserved to the project owner.